

CEO Roundtable | BUSINESS MONDAY

Meet the new Miami Herald CEO roundtable

What do South Florida's business leaders think of the most pressing civic and economic issues of the day? To answer that question, we established the Miami Herald CEO Roundtable, a panel of local chief executives, last year. For six months, we poll the CEOs on what matters to them and why — and what changes the region needs to make to stay competitive. Today, we're announcing a new panel of CEOs for our readers. They lead companies big and small, long-established and startup, across many industries in Miami-Dade and Broward counties. You can meet them here:

CAROL BROOKS

President and co-founder of Continental Real Estate Companies (CREC), one of Florida's largest commercial real estate services firms with 120-plus employees and offices across the state.